

Cashibo Folklore and Culture: Prose, Poetry, and Historical Background

By Lila Wistrand-Robinson

Summer Institute of Linguistics, Academic Publications.
 Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 177 pages.
 Dimensions: 8.7in. x 6.0in. x 0.5in. Lila Wistrand-Robinson, who is an Adjunct Professor of Social Studies at Black River Technical College in Pocahontas, Arkansas, has taken the data from her doctoral thesis on Cashibo, a Panoan language, and revised it for general readership. The research for this work was done over a six-year period during which Dr. Wistrand-Robinson made several trips to the eastern slopes of the Cordillera Azul Blue Ridge area of the Andes in Peru. The book is divided into two parts. The first part contains many of the myths, legends, and chants passed from father to son among the Cashibo. For those readers who are particularly interested in how the stories relate to other Panoan languages, each tale has been linked with Thompson's list of anthropological themes. Part two of the book describes the history of the Cashibo people and culture up to the mid 1960s. The references section includes not only those cited by the author in the volume, but also anthropological and linguistic works that discuss Panoan culture in general, and the Cashibo in particular. This section alone is a valuable resource...
