Gods word and mans;--to peer sometimes Above the page, in smouldering gleams, And catch, like far heroic rhymes, The onmarch of his dreams. r i i A peaceful life;--to hear the low Of pastured herds, Or woodmans ax that, blow on blow, Fell sweet as rhythmic words. And yet there stirred within his breast A fateful pulse that, like a roll Of drums, made high above his rest A tumult in his soul. ANECDOTES OF LINCOLN Lincolns first experience in drilling his company in the Black Hawk War---I could not for the life of me, said he, remember the proper word of command for getting my company endwise so that it could get through the gate; so I shouted: This company is dismissed for two minutes, when it will fall in again on the other side of the gate! The President telegraphed to General Hooker in 1863 in the following words: If the head of Lees army is at Martinsburg, and the tail of it on the plank road between Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, the animal must be slim somewhere. Could you not break him During a conversation on the approaching election, in 1864, a gentleman remarked to President Lincoln that nothing could defeat him but Grants capture of Richmond, to be followed by his nomination at Chicago and acceptance. Well, said the President, I feel very much like the man who said he didnt want to die particularly, but if he had got to...
