Although they are not an enclosed order, the cloister not being compatible with the objects of their institution, nevertheless, as they are more exposed than nuns, in most cases their only monastery being a hospital or an asylum; their chapel, the parish church; their cloister, the public streets; their enclosure, obedience; their grate, the fear of God; their veil, holy modesty; they should lead as virtuous lives as if in the retirement of a cloister, and comport themselves, in all their intercourse with the world, with as much recollection, purity of heart and body, and detachment from creatures, as nuns in the seclusion of their monastery. III. The first thing which they must inviolably observe, is to place the salvation of their souls above every other consideration, and to spare no pains to keep themselves always in a state of grace, shunning mortal sin, and using their utmost endeavors, with the assistance of God, not to...
